Zion National Park

Located in Southwestern Utah, Zion National Park is Utah's oldest and most visited national park.

Zion is an ancient Hebrew word that stands for place of peace and refuge. As you visit the immense canyons, beautifully sculptured rock formations, soaring cliffs and breathtaking landscapes you will agree that Zion National Park certainly lives up to its name.

Zion National Park is home to a diverse collection of geological wonders, including formations such as the towering 2,200-foot Great White Throne, the park's most famous landmark; the Court of the Patriarchs; the Sentinel; the Watchman; Checkerboard Mesa; Kolob Arch, a 310 ft. long arch and the world's largest known natural span.

Zion National Park has gained worldwide recognition for its beauty and grandeur.
